

SIMPLEX
Private Show

Simplex Cars have always been built in small quantities but of the highest quality. It is not the aim of this concern to produce a world beating proposition in point of sales, but in point of efficiency. To that extent the best known and wealthiest people in the United States have been attracted and are numbered among our clientele, and it is the object to continue to attract this class of patronage.

Exclusiveness in Simplex body and chassis design is further augmented this coming season by a completeness in equipment which includes a wonderful electric self-starting and lighting system.

The only exhibition of these cars is now open at the salesrooms—240 West 59th Street (near Columbus Circle)—until 10:30 o'clock each evening, closing on January 18.

MYSTIC CAME HIGH TO AL ADAMS'S WIFE

Paid Out Thousands for "Boiling the Pot" of Good Luck,

She Testifies.

CURE FOR DIABETES TOO

Now Sued for $30,000 More,
Widow Charges She Was Bamboozled.

Mrs. Isabella V. Adams, widow of Al Adams, the "polsey king," took the witness stand before Supreme Court Justice Erlanger and a jury yesterday to oppose a suit for $30,000 brought against her by Mrs. Marguerite Gilbert, at one time a palmist. Mrs. Adams told the court she knew Mrs. Gilbert as "Mme. de Brant" and had paid her thousands of dollars for mysterious powders, mystic water, advice as to the future and counsel concerning family matters. The palmist was her confidante for eight years, Mrs.

Shop Scientifically
Buy Hub-Mark Rubbers

Buy rubbers on the same business basis that we buy the materials go into them. It will be money to your purse and satisfaction in your mind.

To the selection of the crude rubbers in its infinitely varying forms, to choice of compounding ingredients, to fabrics for linings and interlinings, apply scientific efficiency.

With a fire of this spirit on a part, you will learn to discriminate between good rubbers and poor ones, you'll save money. Try Hub-Mark this winter. They are made by factories that's been in the business sixty years.

Standard
First Quality

Adams said.
 Mrs. Adams testified she knew the palmett most intimately at a time when her husband was separated from her and was friendly with her half-sister, Mrs. Celia Thatcher. Mrs. Gilbert alleges in her suit against Mrs. Adams that when Al Adams died and the widow found she and her children were the heirs instead of Mrs. Thatcher she was so overjoyed that she wrote her this note:
 "I, Isabella V. Adams, hereby acknowledge my indebtedness to Marguerite Gilbert for services rendered, for which I promise to pay her the sum of $300.00, and in the event of my death I hereby authorize and direct the payment of the same out of my estate."
 "Did Mrs. Adams fill in the amount in this note?" Mrs. Gilbert was asked.
 "Yes," replied the plaintiff. "When I saw the amount I told her I thought it was too much for her. She told me she didn't think it enough."
 Mrs. Adams testified that she was induced to make the note because Mrs. Gilbert "falsely represented" that she had myopia, or nearsightedness, and her sister. She said Mrs. Gilbert told her she had the power of "healing and clear seeing."
 "Did she speak to you about a fortune teller named Hoga?" asked counsel.
 "Yes," she said Hoga was a wonderful

—woman who could cure my husband of diabetes," said Mrs. Adams. "She said she often stayed up all night to help Hega boil the pot and read the fates. She told me Hega was going to leave this gift to her when she died. She said that to get the necessary herbs to boil in the pot

Heza's son had to go to the West Indies I gave her $100 when she told me this because she had lost her money.

Mrs. Adams said Mrs. Gilbert gave her powders to sprinkle about the house to keep away calandras and that Adams's Mexican nines to make them productive.

Mrs. Gilbert denied that she gave Mrs. Adams medicines or powders. She said she had given her a box of calandras.

Adams just before he died at the Hotel Ansonia that caused him to make the member of his family his heirs.

The trial will be continued to-day.

leged "Peeping Tom" was arrested by the East Orange police to-night as he was peeping into the dressing room of a woman in a public place. He said that several complaints have been received of late of a "peeper," and to-night they set a trap for him and caught him in the act of looking into the dressing room of a woman.

The prisoner, Walter Lee, 23 years of age, is the son of Charles G. Reed. He is a senior in the Cornell High School in New York. He graduated from the East Orange High School

IN 1912.

The annual report of the New York Life Insurance Company for 1912 shows that about 800,000 persons held 1,631,856 policies with the company. The amount called for the payment in case of death was $2,169,000,000. In 1912 about 9,000 of the insured died and the company paid out nearly $200,000,000. More than $2,000,000,000 of new policies were issued in 1912, with contracts calling for payment of nearly $200,000,000.

CITY JOTTINGS.

The petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission last December in behalf of the Board of Trade of Greenwich, Conn., that commutation rates on the New Haven Railroad be investigated, was granted yesterday. The case probably will be

and Long Life

There is a difference in record cards. There is one kind that is better than all others. This is the L.B. standard card. It has never been equalled for long life. It made under a secret process. Ten other qualities. Ten other prices.

For the loss of the first three fingers of his right hand, Charles G. Stepleton, carpenter living in College Point, yesterday received a verdict of $5,000 damages against the New York State Metal Products company of College Point.

Gleady Sinkisz, 21 years of age, of 42 Canal street, Stepleton, was run down and instantly killed by a New York City subway train of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad in Stepleton last night.
